DIVED TO HIS DEATH

Leonard H. Hall Drowned in the Potomac River Opposite This City Yesterday.

The harbor police boat of Washington was engaged in dragging the water around the old piers off Shepherd's point today from nine until half-past ten o'clock in an effort to recover the body of Leonard M. Hall, of this city, who was drowned early yesterday afternoon while in swimming off that wharf. The drowning occurred when Hall was taking his third dive off a small row boat in which he had as his companions George Jones and two small boys.

The four occupants of the rowboat were returning from a trip across the river and stopped at Shepherd's point where Hall decided to take a swim. He dived from the boat twice and on the third dive failed to come up.

The police boat in the Washington harbor was notified almost immediately after the drowning but was unable to locate the body yesterday owing to the high tide in the river. The boat came down again this morning and dragging was commenced at nine o'clock as above stated, and they succeeded in recovering the body.

It is thought that Hall, while diving the third time, hit an obstruction, probably an old pile or some object, and may have broke his neck or hurt himself otherwise in such a way as to prevent his body from reaching the surface.

The dead man was thirty-five years old and was employed at the Southern Railway freight shed, at the corner of Fairfax and Princess streets. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lillie M. Hall, with whom he lived at 901 Oronoco street, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Ford.

CARDINALS DEFEAT RIVALS.

Journey to Clarendon Yesterday and Adminster Severe Defeat to County Team.

The Cardinal Athletic Club's base ball team journeyed to Clarendon yesterday and beat the team representing that place in a most decisive battle by the following score: Cardinals, 6; Clarendon, 1. The game was exciting throughout, both teams fighting hard to win, but the Cardinals, by hard and clean hitting and sensational playing at all stages of the fray, outclassed their rivals, who have been their "jinx" for years past. George Allensworth caught Tommy Degman with the "hidden ball" trick when the latter attempted to steal home.

Clarendon started Pfeil, its star pitcher, but the Cardinals hammered his offerings in great shape. Von Herbulis relieved his teammate in an attempt to stop the Alexandria lads, but failed, twelve hits being registered off their pitching.

Bolen, Stewart, Watt, and the entire Clarendon team are classy ball players, and any base ball outfit that can trim them as deserving of praise. "Lefty" Billy Stevens was on the slab for the Cardinals and pitched a grand game, going nine innings and only five hits were made off his delivery, and he also batted like a big leaguer when hits meant runs for his team.

Manager Robert E. McDanold selected the following named players to trim the Clarendon and his combination worked like clockwork to captured the first game ever won from the Clarendons by the Cardinals. "Jim" Patterson, coach and trainer; Dug Merchant, first base; Bob Olar, second base; George Allensworth, third base; Leon Devers, short stop; Joe Owens, right field; Leslie Williams, left field; Owen Nugent, center field; Billy Stevens, pitcher; and William McBride, catcher.

Yesterday's contest was the first of a series of three games between the two teams and the local boys are naturally much elated over their victory.

LABOR AGENT ARRESTED

Negro From Pennsylvania Fined One Hundred Dollars in the Police Court This Morning.

Among the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of a young negro man who gave his name as Sam Jackson, who had been arrested by Special Officer Rector, of the Southern Railway, for acting as labor agent without a license. According to the evidence, Jackson had been seen on the streets endeavoring to induce colored men to leave Alexandria for Pennsylvania where, he said, they could receive 23 cents an hour by working on railroads. He was to secure 22 men, according to a telegram he sent to Washington, where the expenses of transportation between this city and Washington were to be refunded the men and their transportation to Pennsylvania paid. It was alleged that Jackson had visited the new round house of the Southern Railway and attempted to induce negroes to go to Pennsylvania. Justice Caton imposed a fine of $100 upon Jackson for acting as labor agent without a license.

Two white men, charged with being drunk on the streets, forfeited their collateral by failing to appear, and another white man, an old offender, charged with a similar offense, was sent to the workhouse for 30 days.

Officers Snellings and Zell early Sunday morning arrested Fannie Manley and Addie Butler, two young colored women, charged with disorderly conduct, they having been found in the southeastern section of the city with soldiers. The Butler woman was sent to the workhouse for 60 days.

Two other cases before the court were of minor importance.

GERMAN WITH CHART.

Held for Federal Authorities After Serving One Hour Term.

Richmond, Va., July 15.—At the conclusion of one hour in jail, to which he was sentenced by Judge Edmund Waddill, of the United States district court, for failure to register, Wolfgang Berger, alien enemy, whose case has been under the microscope of the Department of Justice, was held by the Henrico jail authorities at the order of the Federal Government.

It is understood that the request to hold Berger came directly from the office of the Attorney General and that an order is now being prepared by which he will be sent to a detention camp until the conclusion of the war. It was stated at the previous hearings of Berger by a Secret Service agent that the man had made his way laong the entire Atlantic seaboard and had visited most of the navy yards along the coast. A diary is in evidence against Berger which contains a chart of the coast.

At certain places are dots which it is presumed were placed there by Berger to indicate the places he had visited. Most of them were navy yards and forts, it is said. There was, so far as is known, no directly incriminating evidence against the man, although his statements and the dotted map and other circumstances have been sufficient to cause suspicion and furnish grounds on which he may be interned.

Berger today said he was a native of Bavaria and that he had never become a naturalized citizen of the United States. Asked which he liked better, President Wilson or the Kaiser, he said he did not know either of them well.

Weds Girl He Rescued

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 16.—Louis Conley, a Pittsburgh fireman, and Miss Anna Gilbert, who was rescued from flames by the former, owned up today that they eloped to Wellsburg, W. Va., last Friday, and were married.

Early one morning last January firemen were trying to save the Gilbert home from destruction. They heard the screams of Miss Gilbert, trapped on the second floor. Conley dashed up a ladder, put his coat about the frantic girl and carried her safely to the street.

Clams and Crabs at J. Brill's foot of King Street.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

The Allison W. C. T. U. will meet this evening at the Children's Home.

Alexandria lodge of Elks will hold a crab feast at the Rathskeller at 8 o'clock this evening to which the members and their friends are cordially invited.

Funeral services for the late Eddie B. Scrivener, who died Saturday morning after an illness of two years, were held this afternoon at two o'clock at his late home, 213 north Pitt street. The Rev. R. W. White officiated, and interment too kplace in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

The Gazette is requested to state, for the benefit of those who may desire to know, that a circular just issued by the American Red Cross at Washington defines a member of the Red Cross to be a person who has contributed the sum of one dollar for the benefit of the cause. The circular also says that those who contribute more than two dollars become what is known as contributing members.

President John W. May and Secretary J. T. Preston will go to as invited guests with the Washington Chamber of Commerce tomorrow on an excursion to Chesapeake Beach. Secretary Preston will be entered in the fat men's running race also in the swimming contests, it is said. Those who have seen him run and swim say that those Washington men will have to hurry for once in their lives if never again.

Company G, First Virginia Infantry, of this city, will go into training at Anniston, Ala., where the Maryland and District of Columbia troops will also be stationed, according to latest advices obtainable. Officers of Company G, expect to be mustered into Federal service at an early date and move very shortly for the cantonment at Anniston. The company, which now numbers 122 qualified men, will drill tonight at the armory.

The funeral of the late Lambert D. Lyles, city market master for many years, who died early Saturday morning at his home on north Fayette street exactly one week after the death of his wife had occurred, took place from the Methodist Episcopal Church South this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Services were conducted by the Rev. E. V. Regester, pastor. Members of the Alexandria Council, Order of Fraternal Americans, of which Mr. Lyles was a member, attended the funeral in a body.

Company C of the Alexandria Home Guards will hold its regular drill at the armory this evening.

Arthur Carter has instituted divorce proceedings in the Circuit Court for this city against Frances Walton Carter.

Mrs. M. R. Wood and two children have left to spend the next two months with Mrs. Wood's parents, in Huntington, W. Va.

The open air meeting held every Sunday afternoon at Fort Hill under the auspices of the Laymen's League was addressed yesterday by the Rev. A. E. Spielman, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church.

E. G. Quarles, an engineer employed on the Washington-Southern Railroad, fell from his engine on Saturday night and sustained a fracture of his right arm. He was taken to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment.

An all-day picnic and outing will be given July 23 by the congregation of St. Mary's Catholic Church, according to arrangements which are now in progress. The outing will be given at Hume's grove, Alexandria county, a favorite resort for picknickers.

Tax bills for the city have been made out and are now in the hands of P. F. Gorman, collecter of taxes, ready for payment. It is likely that the finance committee of the city council will fix July 25 or August 1 as the final date for the allowing of the usual five per cent discount for prompt payment. This date will occur later than usual this year on account of the delay in the making up of the bills.

Members of the ladies' auxiliary of the Old Dominion Boat Club gave another dance Saturday evening at the boat house, which was greatly enjoyed by all who attended. Student officers from Fort Myer and officers in the different branches of the regular service were present. The custom of playing patriotic selections, including the "Star Spangled Banner," was adhered to. The ladies' auxiliary expects to give another dance next Saturday night.

Mrs. Cooper Dawson has gone to Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

Mrs. W. S. Connelly and son returned today from Front Royal.

Miss Irma Coleman has gone to Strasburg for a brief visit among friends.

Mrs. Albert Bryan and son, Albert V. Bryan, left today for Atlantic City, where they will spend some time, and later join Councilman Bryan in New York state for a trip in that section of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamonte Tupper and little daughter left today for their home in New York city after being the guests for the past few days of Mr. Tuper's sister, Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, at her home in Duke street.

Miss Anna Elizabeth Schwarzmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John U. Schwarzmann, and Herman K. Kopp, of Lancaster, Pa., were married Saturday night at St. Mary's Catholic Church, by the Rev. L. F. Kelly, assistant rector.

There will be another open air service at Windmill Hill this evening from seven to eight o'clock, conducted by Evangelist Gibson. Last evening there was a very successful service, and all seemed to be very much interested in the sermon of the Evangelist. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services.

Numbers of patriotic women of Alexandria were registered Saturday in the city market by the committee in charge of the local registration of women for "Hoover's Brigade." Saturday was the second day set apart by the local committee for this purpose. Registration was in charge of Mrs. Louis C. Barley and Mrs. Robert S. Barrett.

Local talent is to feature Thursday night in a musical and literary entertainment to be given at the Mount Vernon avenue school house, in Del Ray, for soldiers and sailors of the vicinity. The entertainment is to be given under the auspices of the Red Cross Chapter at Del Ray and members of the women's committee of that unit will serve as the reception committee. Among those from this city who will participate are: Mrs. Robert S. Barrett, Mrs. Harrie White, Mrs. Kenneth W. Ogden, Mrs. Sherman B. Fowler, Mrs. Charles T. Lindsey, Miss Lucy M. Graves, Mrs. William Woolls, Wilmer J. Waller, Kenneth W. Ogden, John Luckett, Colin White, Miss Milsie Zachary and Sherman B. Fowler.

RUSSIAN DRIVE.

Austrians Pushed Further Back—Lose Guns and 1,600 Prisoners.

London, July 16.—The Austrians have again gone down in defeat before the irresistible onrush of Gen. Korniloff's army in Galicia. They made heroic efforts to stem the Muscovite tide. But all the infuriated counter attacks which they launched in the face of the withering Russian fire were of no avail. They lost new ground, more prisoners and paid for their futile attempts with fearful sacrifices of life.

The new battles took place southwest of Kalusz, the important town twenty-three miles west of Stanislau, which the Russians captured a few days ago. Eighteen miles below this point, around Lodziany, Korniloff's troops took one thousand prisoners. Further northward on the Bohorodczany-Novica line, they took six hundred. On both fronts the Austrians were pressed further back. Several guns were taken by the victors.

London, July 16.—Slaughter of the fiercest kind marked another Sabbath on the Franco-German front where all days are consecrated to Mars alone. The departing sun saw the road with the chivalrous name bathed in new torrents of blood, the slopes of the Champagne heights dotted with new hillocks of bodies.

A frightful dual battle was fought throughout the night and all day long. The Teutons emerged victors on the Road-of-the-Ladies (Chemindes-Dames), the French in the Champagne. The respective gains on these widely separated fronts curiously counterbalance each other.

KING BALKS VENIZELOS.

Refuses to Sign Decree to Resummon Chamber And Postpones Other Actions.

Paris, July 16.—A dispatch to the Temps from Athens says:

"Serious differences appear to have arisen between the new King of Greece and Premier Venizelos. One indication of this is the postponement by the King of the signing of a decree to resummon the 1915 Chamber of Deputies, which was illegally dissolved by the Premier, Stephanos Skouloudis. M. Venizelos demands that the King openly cease to carry out his father's internal and external policies, but the King is postponing action or has refused to give his approval to such categorical repudiations."

Saturday Half Holiday

"Commencing August 1, the usual Saturday half-holiday will be granted in the bureau."

This is the text of an official notice posted to all employes of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing by Director Ralph.

Notice is also given that the granting of annual leave and accumulated leave will begin August 1.

This is a complete victory for Miss Rankin, member of Congress from Montana, and for employes who contend against conditions there that required overtime, no half-holidays and suspension of the leave privilege.

INDICT NINE PERSONS

Accused Plead Guilty of Violating Prohibition Law of State in Bringing in More Than Quart of Liquor.

The Corporation Court, Judge L. C. Barley, convened this morning. The grand jury brought in true bills in the following cases, the parties being charged with violating the prohibition law in bringing into the state more than allotted quart of liquor a month:

Com. vs. Louis Harris.
Com. vs. Ora Dove.
Com. vs. James Sullivan.
Com. vs. Aaron Jackson.
Com. vs. George Jones.
Com. vs. William Fyper.
Com. vs. John Towers.
Com. vs. John Crutchfield.
Com. vs. Samuel Scott.

All plead guilty as indicted. The minimum penalty is $50 fine and 30 days' imprisonment in jail. This penalty was pronounced upon each of the defendants.

In the case of the Com. vs. Llewellyn Lane the grand jury returned not a true bill.

The case of Kate Applen, charged with receiving jewelry stolen by her daughter from the apartments of F. P. Russell, was continued, as was also that of Arthur Grigsby charged with entering a house and stealing a watch.

Two civil cases were set for the 20th instant.

PLOT TO SMUGGLE COPPER

Captain and Engineer of Norwegian Steamer Arraigned Before U. S. Commissioner.

New York, July 16.—What apparently was a plot to smuggle copper to Germany was barred Saturday, when the captain and engineer of a Norwegian steamer were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hitchcock. They were held in heavy ball.

The vessel was overhauled by a United States destroyer off New York. The Federal authorities found 10,000 feet of insulated copper wire aboard which was not included in the manifest. The men were charged technically with trying to take undeclared goods out of the port. Meanwhile the government will look more deeply into the case on the theory that it was a smuggling plot.

The two prisoners are Peter Einarsen and his chief engineer, John Larsen. Their vessel is under charter to the firm of Oestlandske & Westlanske, petroleum dealers, of Christiania and Bergen. When the officers filed their manifest on July 9 suspicion was aroused and the vessel was watched carefully and seized off quarantine.

The wire was found in the tanks of the tanker, which were dragged with boat hooks. Acting Deputy Collector of Revenue. Gass ordered the men arrested. The Federal authorities believe the copper wire was eventually destined for Germany. They are not convinced that the two officers of the vessel had guilty knowledge of the smuggling plot.

PRESIDENT WILSON AT POHICK

Surprises Pastor and Congregation by Attending Service at the Historic Old Church Yesterday.

President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson were among the attendants at Pohick church yesterday morning at the eleven o'clock service.

It is said that neither the minister or congregation had any notice of the coming of their distinguished guests until just a few minutes before it was time for the meeting to open, and that the good pastor, Rev. E. W. Mellichampe, became so flustrated when he was told by a secret service man that the President would be a member of his congregation that he mislaid the notes he had prepared for his discourse and was compelled to preach an entirely extemporaneous sermon.

According to a statement made by one of the old residents of that community, Mr. Wilson is the first President to attend Pohick church since George Washington listened to a sermon in the historic old edifice.

GERMANS ENLISTING DOGS

A Berlin Newspaper Advertises for Canines to Help the Troops.

It will be remembered that quite early in the war the Kaiser gave vent to a conglomeration of bombast, in the course of which he said that Germany would never give in if they had to arm every cat and dog in the empire. Something of the sort now seems to be actually happening, and may be a measure of Germany's desperation.

The Lokal Anzeiger, a government controlled organ, publishes a notice to the effect that the army at the front needs dogs, "healthy, quick, sharp and not shy." They are required as watchdogs, and at the same time will make possible the lightening of military duties. It looks as if the animals were to be used for worrying the British troops.

OUSTING OF HOLLWEG.

Successor to German Chancellor Credited With Antipathy Toward Junker Caste.

London, July 16—Bethmann-Hollweg is out.

The German imperial Chancellor resigned Saturday, exactly eight years after he took the office. He was appointed Chancellor on July 14, 1909.

Emperor William, upon accepting Hollweg's resignation, appointed Dr. George Michaelis to succeed him.

The New Chancellor has been, since 1909, Under-Secretary in the Ministry of Finance. He was a wide experience in the fields of finance, national economy and government administration. He is sixty-six years of age. A Prussian by birth and education, he has been in the Prussian state service since 1879.

Dr. Michaelis is known to hold decidedly liberal views. He is credited with antipathy, rather than with leanings toward the Junker caste. His appointment came as a tremendous surprise to Germany and the entente countries. Simultaneously with the central, responsible head of the empire, the directing chief of the Prussian—and therewith German—army system, General von Stein resigned.

There is a strong probability that Field Marshal von Hindenburg will be named to succeed von Stein as War Minister. In that case, Hindenburg's "right hand," General von Ludendorff, would become chief of staff, it is believed.

Copenhagen, July 16.—The Berlin correspondent report that Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German Minister at Copenhagen, has been selected to succeed Dr. Alfred Zimmerman as imperial foreign secretary. Should this report be confirmed it would mean the return of the aristocratic traditions of the German service.

Germans Beg for Peace.

Amsterdam, July 16.—The internal struggle in Germany today definitely turned upon the question of terms of peace.

The next step in the political fight which has held the attention of the world for the past week will come on the peace resolution put forward by the majority parties in the Reichstag.

The Lokal Anzeiger today reports a popular peace demonstration as having taken place upon the departure of Field Marshal von Hindenburg for grand headquarters, following his conference with the party leaders in Berlin.

A large crowd was on hand when the field marshal departed. Shouts immediately arose as Hindenburg appeared.

"Give us a good peace!" they shouted.

Then came cries from others:

"Give us an early peace!"

Hindenburg silently saluted.

TRANSPORTATION OF LIQUOR

Three men were arrested yesterday charged with being drunk upon the streets. No liquor was found in their possession when they were searched at the station house. This is significant and seems to show that those who go to Washington for supplies of stimulants are aware of the fact that they can only transport that which they have drank in the capital city. It is said that government agents are on the lookout for those who are suspected of bringing liquor into the state of Virginia, and arrests of those who may have the nerve to defy a law of the United States are probable.

It will be seen elsewhere in the Gazette that a doctor in a neighboring state who had exported beer for his personal use into a state where the making or sale of liquor is illegal will have to face the United States Court.

Since the first day of last November people whose business or inclinations did not cause them to visit Washington over once or twice a year have been patrons of the electric trains, especially on Saturday nights. Being allowed under the state law a quart of liquor a month, numbers took advantage of the privilege, while it is safe to say that many obtained at least a quart a week. Negroes, male and female, from Alexandria city and county were conspicuous among those who took advantage of this privilege, most of whom imbibed freely before purchasing the alloted quart. Some, as might be expected, were disorderly at times, and made no attempts to conceal their purchases. Under the present United States law those having liquor in their possession are liable to be taken into custody should a government agent come along.

THE EXIT OF HOLLWEG.

It is suggested by most of the prominent papers of this country that the resignation of Bethmann-Hollweg as German Chancellor quite obviously means that the Crown Prince-Hindenburg-Tirpitz element —the war-to-the-last-gasp element —is in control. The war party is more firmly than ever in the saddle in Germany, but there is no concealing the fact that there is far from complete harmony under the lid.

The Chancellor had, to outside observation, followed the suggestion of a militant system in the handling of every critical situation. He had, however, some individual opinions, which, according to the rumors, he expressed in formal conversation, that were too frankly pessimistic to the thinking of the heir apparent and the mailed fist influences which comprise the militant system that is behind the Pan-Germany idea. Dr. Hollweg is accredited with the declaration, made in a recent private conversation, that the war "In the best case can only be a draw." Possibly the Kaiser also, if the truth could be known, assents to this view. Germany, in the end, is likely to obtain conditions that are far less favorable than a draw.

Austria has not abandoned the idea of making terms upon the condition of no annexations, no indemnities. Austria has also an under-the-lid situation and the lid seems not to be so firmly clamped down in Vienna as in Berlin.

German intrigue has failed in Russia, failed in the United States, failed dismally and universally. In this country new phases of Germany's intermeddling crop out continuously, but schemes to demoralize American industrialism and all the promiscuous conspiracies promoted through German secret agencies and financed with Germany money will be blocked, as many of them have already been blocked. Whether the latter turns at Berlin—the retirement of Dr. Hollweg—will mean the abandonment of the secret agency intrigue system may appear later. Anyhow, the intrigue system has gone to pot. It has been exposed and that ends it.

FALL OF THE BASTILE

Last Saturday was the anniversary of the destruction of the Bastile, the historic prison of Paris in the days of Louis the Fifteenth and Madame Pompadour. Victims of that cruel couple who lived to again breathe the pure air of heaven have given vivid descriptions of their experience in this gloomy edifice, especially Latude, who spent thirty-six years within its precincts for offending Madame Pompadour. When the revolution was launched one of the first acts of the excited Parisians was to demolish this building. This occurred July 14, 1789.

It is suggested by the Philadelphia Record that July 14 may prove to be a fateful a day in the German as it it is in the French calendar. Not much of what is going on in Berlin is permitted to be known outside but there is doubt that the German Government is at a crisis, and there is a high probability that the anniversary of the fall of the Bastile will make more German history than any since Sedan. Popular government in France dates from July 14, 1789. In Germany it may possibly date from July 14, 1917.

The Bastile was not in itself especially obnoxious to the downtrodden masses of the population of Paris. There were plenty of other places where they could be made to suffer. Their actions and their wretchedness were not likely to reach the notice of the King. But the Bastile was the most accessible and offensive material embodiment of the hated principle of the divine right of kings. It was the natural destination of every one who presumed to stand in the way of the man who regarded himself as God's Anointed.

The German people, intensely, fanatically loyal as they have always been, are waking up to the fact that three years ago the Kaiser precipitated a war of aggrandizement and conquest, that he has failed, that he connot succeed, but that he will not make peace so long as the German people shall consent to suffer and die. Therefore, the people demand a Government responsible to them and not to the Kaiser.

The issue is that which President Wilson set forth in his historical address to Congress. It is democracy against autocracy. It is the people on one side and a nearly absolute monarch, who believes himself ordained of God to rule his nation, on the other.

SO-CALLED NEUTRALS.

Through its control of exports under the law which became effective yesterday, the United States can deal two effective blows against Germany, the combined effect of which should shorten the war. The curtailing of food exports to neutrals that persist in feeding Germany is one of these strokes, and the closing of neutral waters to German submarines is the other. There is no doubt that Germany will soon be made to feel the pinch of the tightened blockade. Will she also be checked in the use of the submarine? That depends upon the firmness and skill with which the United States and Great Britain deal with the north European neutrals.

That these neutrals permit Germany to violate their neutrality by sending her submarines to frequent their territorial waters is verified by Arthur Pollen, the noted British naval expert, in an interview printed yesterday by the New York Times. He says:

"It is an open secret that Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Norway are violating neutrality by allowing illegal use of their territorial waters by the Germans. The enemy submarines are making such illegal use in passing to and from the North Sea and the surface ships are doing it in going back and forth between the Baltic and the Rhine. It is a question whether the allies should not tell these neutral countries to put a stop to this or take the consequences The doctrine of territorial waters never contemplated that they should be used as a lane for habitual passage by belligerent ships."

The neutrals not only permit German submarines to use their territorial waters as safe lanes, but they prohibit the allied navies from occupying their waters. A British warship visiting a Norwegian or Danish port would be ordered out at the expiration of 24 hours, but a German submarine may lie in those waters as long as it pleases.

If a British cruiser should sow mines within Norwegian or other neutral waters there would be a howl of protest; yet a German submarine is permitted to lie in wait for enemy and neutral vessels and to destroy them within neutral waters.

As the Washington Post says, the necessity of war will not tolerate such a state of affairs. The northern nations calling themselves neutrals must immediately become so in fact, by shutting German submarines out of their waters, or suffer the consequences. The United States cannot afford to promote German submarine murder by winking at the complicity of the so-called neutrals.

Draft May be Saturday.

With only twelve States yet to report "ready," War Department officials today hoped the great draft lottery might be held Saturday.

A burst of over Sunday speed filled the department cabinets with nearly 4,000 draft rolls—more than 8,000,000 names of men eligible for democracy's armies.

Unless there is unlooked for delay, the drawing will be held not later than the first of next week. Within twenty-four hours the armies will begin process of formation.

Forty-two days will be required to complete all the work attached to the draft. Hence, if the drawing comes Saturday, it will be September 1 before the last steps are completed.

Original plans set the date at September 5. Cantonments may not be ready before October 1.

SUPPLY WEAKENING

German Torpedo Deteriorating in Speed and Accuracy.

Washington, July 16.—There is reason to believe that the German torpedo supply is weakening, says a statement issued at the Navy League headquarters.

The increasing frequency with which press dispatches report merchant ships as successfully dodging German torpedoes, says the statement, suggested to the technically-trained mind that the German torpedo in deteriorating in speed and hence in accuracy of fire at long range.

At the outset, the statement continues, the Germans were extremely careful to conserve their torpedoes. Merchant ships were sunk by gunfire wherever possible. But the arming of merchant ships and the constant improvement in the Allies' system of defense against submarine attack has driven the submarine under water and they are now forced to use torpedoes in almost every attack. The increase in the number of submarines has further added to the strain upon the German stock of torpedoes.

An analysis of reports on submarine attacks now indicates that this unprecedented expenditure of torpedoes is beginning to tell upon the effectiveness of the U-boat warfare. The Germans are pressing their submarine campaign with all possible vigor, and the number of attacks on merchant ships appears to be increasing. Also the zone of submarine operations is constantly widening. Yet this increased fury with which the U-boat warfare is being waged has failed to increase the number of merchant ships sunk. The Germans apparently are being forced to constantly greater efforts to maintain their average of sinkings and even so are slipping back slightly.

The explanation of this offered by certain naval experts is that the Germans are being so pressed for time in the construction of torpedoes that they can no longer maintain their speed and their accuracy of fire. It is estimated that the German torpedo has lost nearly ten knots in speed from the standard torpedo used at the outset of the war.

It takes normally six months to construct a torpedo and costs many thousand dollars. There is also a chance of Germany running short in some material essential in their manufacture. Whether this has occurred is not known, but the conclusion has bee nreached that the individual German torpedo is losing in efficiency.

Fish's Fin Kills Woman

Laurel, Del., July 16.—Mrs. George Cordrey, forty-six, died here today from blood poisoning, caused by sticking a fin in her finger while cleaning fish a week ago. NAMING OF THE CAMPS

First Official Recognition Given to Southern Generals by War Department.

The American War Department, for the first time since the Civil War, officially paid a tribute to the military genius of noted Confederate war chieftains when it announced yesterday that four of the training camps, where the selective draft army and National Guardsmen will be prepared for service in France, will be named for Gen. Robert E. Lee, Gen. Joe Wheeler, Gen. John B. Gordon and Gen P. G. T. Beauregard. Names of Union generals and Revolutionary heroes were also selected as designations for cantonments and training camps.

The cantonment at Petersburg, Va., where the Fifth division troops, composed of the selective draft recruits from Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia, will be trained, was given the name of "Lee Camp," in honor of the famed Confederate military chieftain. The camp at Atlanta, Ga., where the Georgia, Alabama and Florida troops will train, was named "Camp Gordon," in honor of the beloved Georgia general, John B. Gordon.

The National Guard camp at Macon, Ga., where the Georgia, Alabama and Florida guardsmen will train, was given the name of "Camp Wheeler," in honor of Gen. Joe Wheeler, and the National Guard camp at Alexandria, La., where the Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas guardsmen will train, will be called "Camp Beauregard," in honor of the Louisiana military chieftain of that name.

This is the first time that the American War Department has officialy recognized the Confederate chieftains by using their names in any capacity. It is a tribute, which, it is hoped, will go a long way toward helping to wipe out the last vestige of sectional feeling between the North and the South as a result of the Civi war.

SCARE IS DISCREDITED.

Secretary of Navy Says There is no Foundation for Rumor of German Submarines.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels last night discredited the latest "submarine scare."

Reports had been published of the receipt by the government of information that one, or a fleet of German submarines of extraordinary size and efficiency were headed for the American coasts. Other reports told of the presence of a raider in Chesapeake Bay, where a great part of the world's shipping passes into Hampton Roads.

The reports had gone so far as to hint that a submarine had made its way through Chesapeake Bay to the mouth of the Potomac and contemplated an attack on Washington. Great activity of searchlights from the navyyard, Washington barracks and Fort Hunt, on the river, were pointed to as bearing out these reports.

"The Navy Department has received no reports that a submarine is in hiding in Chesapeake Bay," he said. "Neither do we know anything about a submarine being reported in the Potomac river or of a fleet of submarines crossing the ocean to raid our coasts."

The reports had said the "defensive war areas" along the coast were being closed in expectation of the raid. The department said there had been no new orders for these districts, and that they were operating the same as usual.

U-BOATS GROWING IN SIZE.

One Which Attacked Town in Azores May be of 1,000 Tons.

Paris, July 16.—Advices from Ponta Belgada, in the Azores, regarding the recent attack upon that port by a German submarine declare the shells fired were of 15 centimetre calibre, indicating that the U-boat probably was of unusual size, possibly of 1,000 tons. The vessel is said to carry two or three guns.

WOULD DISPOSE OF MASHERS.

Magistrate Has Plan to Squelch Street Corner Gladiators.

Detroit, July 16.—And now comes Justice Christopher Stein with an announcement of the court's attitude on the summer time masher.

"A masher," said the justice, "is not the rarest bird of the world, neither is he entirely new to Detroit.

"I have an idea in mind that I hope will serve as a warning to all street corner gladiators.

"The work they would find with Uncle Sam's forces would soon take this particular form of devilishness out of them.

"As a matter of fact, in the army they wouldn't need to mash; every girl likes a soldier after he's been made a man, and so does every man, but nobody likes a masher. Let a bunch of stalwart soldiers get hold of a masher and they will soon make a man of him.

"And so when the mashers are brought here they will first receive a chance to enlist. This failing, they will have to suffer the judgment of the court.

"And the penalty will be severe."

SIGNIFICANT SPEECH

Czech Leader Advises Austria to Break Away From Germany.

Zurich, July 16.—The Austrian Reichstrat was thrown into an uproar on Saturday when the former Czech Minister, Herr Praschek, declared the hate of the entire world was not directed againt Austria, but against Germany, and that Austria should detach herself from her ally, says a Vienna dispatch.

"How are we to obtain peace," demanded Herr Praschek, "if we cling to the German side? Must we continue to sacrifice our interests to the expansion of Germany? Must we continue to submit to the German militarism that has drawn us into this war?"

The speaker declared that Czech Deputies had been imprisoned for attempting to bring about an alliance of Austria with Russia and France, and added that if they were to be stigmatized as traitors then all Czeschs who believed similarly should be so stigmatized.

DOCTOR'S INVENTION.

Device Would Enable One Submarine to Destroy Another.

Baltimore, July 16.—After working for many months in an endeavor to perfect a new type of mine, electrically controlled and discharged by means of a powerful wireless apparatus located at a distance from the mine itself, a device which would enable one submarine to destroy another, it was learned last night that Dr. J. B. Whitehead, of the Johns Hopkins University electrical school, had brought his labors to a successful termination.

Dr. Whitehead himself, of course, refuses to comment on this new and epoch-making invention as he is working in the interests of the United States government.

Hitherto mines have been strictly a means of defense, passive in their operation until brought into contact with an enemy ship or exploded by means of an electric current by wire from some shore station at the moment a ship is above it.

This new invention, it is claimed, does away with the element of chance, for by means of a powerful electric battery the mine can be directed upon whatever course its operator may desire and can be exploded by simply pressing a button, the wireless waves being emyloyed both in directing it and in its explosion.

The advantage that such a mine will have over the ordinary torpedo used by the submarine is the impossibility of failure to either but the target or of its nonexplosion after the target is struck.

By this method, Dr. Whitehead has solved the problem of destroying submarines by submarines. In connection with this new mine method of fighting U-boats is a report that an instrument has been perfected to locate position and distance of the submarine to be attacked.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Capt. J. J. Cole, one of the best known Virginia pilots, was drowned yesterday at Norfolk. He fell from the pilot boat Relief while on duty. Friends believe the accident was caused by a stroke of apoplexy. Captain Cole was 34 years of age.

One young woman, Miss Katie McGregor, aged twenty-one years, was drowned yesterday afternoon at Ocean View when a party of four, who were in bathing, were caught on a sandbar and cut off from the shore by the rapidly advancing tide. When the party, all young women, attempted to make their way back to shore they were soon in water beyond their depth. Several men went to the rescue, and three were saved. Miss McGregor was swept beyond reach and sank. The body has not been recovered. Miss McGregor was secretary of the Pocahontas Fuel Company in Norfolk office.

A great automobile, truck and motorcycle supply depot is to be established by the war department at a point somewhere between Richmond and Norfolk, Va. This depot will be used primarily for the storage of motor machines and equipment destined for points abroad. It is understood that it will be one of the most important, as well as one of the largest depots of this kind established anywhere in the country.

Norfolk and Western passenger train, number 18, eastbound, struck an automobile truck from Roanoke on a grade crossing at Vinton yesterday morning, demolishing the truck and injuring the negro chauffeur and two white boys, of Roanoke, who were riding with him. The victims are not critically hurt.

The state of Virginia is buying its own bonds and retiring them. The sinking fund is dirested to buy not less than $120,000 of the securities annually. All revenue to the state from her interest in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad is set aside for this purpose in addition to the fixed sum of $120,000. Interest from retired bonds is devoted to the purchase of new bonds. Under the management of the sinking fund commissioners the settlement of the debt is being effected three times as fast as provided under the terms of the settlement. So far this month the purchases are $84,000, being nearly $75,000 more than required under the law.

Escaped Circus Lion

Decatur, Ill., July 16.—Three hundred men armed with rifles and shotguns formed a skirmish line half a mile long and systematically combed the Robert Allerton place for a lion that jumped on the butler, Thomas Gullet, and escaped after injuring him slightly.

Once again the wily fugitive dodged the men, after being seen only a quarter of a mile from the house, while pursuers penetrated the woods on hands and knees trying to find it.

The $250 reward for the lion's capture, dead or alive, is still unclaimed. The beast is said to have escaped from a circus.

Bees Go To Church

Cumberland, Md., July 16.—While the Rev. Mr. Parish, pastor of the Methodist Church at Rush, twelve miles east of here, was in the midst of his Sunday discourse, the congregation was thrown suddenly into a panic by the appearance of hundreds of bees.

An investigation revealed that a swarm of bees had settled between the weather boarding and the plastering, and that one side of the church will have to be torn out before the bees can be dislodged.

In the meantime the congregation will meet in a nearby school house.

Eagle Attacks Man.

Bryan, Ohio., July 16.—Raymond Siebenaler, was attacked and injured by an eagle near here recently. Siebenaler was on his way to work. The big bird was perched on a fence. When opposite, the eagle flew directly at him, losing no time at opening battle. To ward off the attack he threw up his arms and the bird's talons sank deep into his wrist. Grasping it by the foot he threw the eagle to the ground and killed it with a club. It measured four feet and four inches from tip to tip.

MACHEN SAYS WE'LL WIN

Former Alexandrian Arraigns Germany in Scathing Terms, Showing Teutonic Aims.

Richmond, Va., July 16.—"Yes, we'll win this war for civilization. The seas no longer limit our duties, nor define our rights. We have joined the free peoples of the worlds to win further freedom and to protect it; to give the death blow to the last remnant of military despotism that has already drenched the world with blood and tears, filled the seas with the corpses of innocent women and little children—a despotism whose record is black with perfidy and crimson with murder millions of times multiplied. Having saved civilization from the terror of this menace, America will not only bear the proud title of the land of the free and the home of the brave, but also a name that will be nobler still, of the land that gave freedom to the homes of brave people in all dominions beneath the shining pathway of the sun."

The above paragraph concludes a stirring arraignment of Germany and German methods prepared by Lewis H. Machen, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau and chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Virginia Council of Defense.

"It may be asked," says Mr. Machen," why the German government was anxious for a conquest of France. The answer is that the rising tide of social democracy in Germany, in spite of the utmost efforts of the emperor and his associates, gave warning that unless the minds of the nation were quickly diverted there was danger of a modification, if not a displacement, of the monarchy. A brief and brilliant military campaign would have strengthened the government in the eyes of the German people who would glory in the added prestige of the German army. Moreover, the addition of French provinces, bringing the German Empire to the English Channel, would have afforded a base of operations (which would not have been long postponed) against England, of whom distrust and hatred have been for years shrewdly inculcated into the German mind.

"Even religion was used to foster this militaristic spirit. The teachings of Christ and His apostles regarding peace and justice were repudiated. The Emperor continually claimed that he himself was the chosen instrument of Providence to bring the world under subjection to Germany. The German philisophers were either atheists who constructed a cruel and relentless fate, driving the nations without mercy by militarism and greed or they were blasphemers and erected a monstrous god worse than a demon, who was the junior partner of the Kaiser in the bloody enterprise of crushing all peoples who came between that royal lunatic and the night mare of blood and death, which he fancied was a dream of Glory."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The government yesterday took the first step to mobilize an army of a million men. Approximately 125,000 National Guardsmen were mobilized under an executive order in eleven States. They comprise the first increment of the militia to be drawn into the Federal service.

After slashing both wrists, Solomon Guggenheim, stopping at the Grenoble Hotel, in New York, plunged from a fourth story window to his death in the courtyard below this morning. Guggenheim had been despondent, owing to the loss of a large part of his fortune.

Evidently mistaking Stanley Levine for his 9-year-old sister, who was not at home, a man dragged him from his bed through an open window into the yard at the rear of his home in Detroit and there suffocated and killed him yesterday morning. While attempting to prevent Isadore, the brother of Stanley, from crying for help after he had been awakened by the opening of the window, the man tore the boy's mouth and threatened to kill him if he did not remain quiet. Celia Levine, a pretty girl of nine years, unquestionably was the person sought by the murderer. She usually slept with her youngest brother, but Saturday night went to the home of her uncle to visit over Sunday.

John King, 75 years old, and his son, Lloyd King, 27, both of West York, Pa., were struck by lightning and instantly killed Saturday night while fishing along the Big Conewago, near Creaders Mill, 10 miles from Hanover. There were six men in the party, who drove from York in an automobile for a day's outing. They were preparing to go home, when a severe thunderstorm broke. Father and son sought shelter under a tree which was hit by a bolt from the sky, and one body fell across the other. A second son and the other men witnessed the tragedy from the opposite side of the creek.

The State Department announced last night that the squadron commanded by Admiral William B. Caperton, now in South Atlantic waters, would pay a visit of courtesy at Buenos Aires. The visit is made in response to the urgent request of the Argentine government. The ships have visited several South American ports and received riotous welcomes. The State Department is informed that Buenos Aires is planning to outdo the other cities.

William Lyons, 28 years old, a prominent young clubman, was shot and instantly killed yesterday in the Hussars Club in Savannah, Ga., by Charles O. S. Mallard, superintendent of the club. Lyons and Mallard had spent the night together, returning to Savannah yesterday. Both were intoxicated. Following a dispute, Mallard shot Lyons in the stomach with an army pistol.

N. V. Nekrasoff, Russia minister of ways and means communications, has notified all militia chiefs at the various railway stations that information has been received from the staff that the Germans have sent agents to assassinate government officials, with particular intentions against A. F. Kerensky, the war minister, and urging every precaution.

An official statement from the British Foreign Office recently informed the British public that twenty-two countries had severed diplomatic relations with Germany. "Of these," the statement added, "thirteen are at war with Germany and may be considered in alliance for that purpose." The list of the twenty-two is as follows: Russia, France, Belgium, Great Britain, Serbia, Montenegro, China, Brazil, Bolivia, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Japan, Portugal, Italy, Rumania, United States, Cuba, Panama, Liberia, Haiti, San Domingo.

The Norwegian-American Line steamship Kristianiafjord, with 1,200 persons on board was wrecked Saturday on the rocky coast of New Foundland, eight miles off Cape Race. By a magnificent feat of seamanship, all the passengers—916 persons bound from New York for a Norwegian port—were landed safely at Portugal Cove, not far from the point at which the big liner went ashore while groping her way across the banks of New Foundand in a fog complicated by driving rain.

German propaganda in the United States, as represented by the I. W. W., will be throttled immediately through a plan put into effect today. Attorney General Gregory will be requested by Congress to assemble at once United States grand juries in every locality where the activities of the I. W. W. have been apparent, place a United States judge in charge and indict and try all offenders on the spot, without loss of a minute.

That Dr. Bethmann Hollweg realizes Germany cannot win is the gist of a further statement credited to the ex-chancellor by Professor Harnack and published in the Rhenische-Westfalische Zeitung. "The greatest danger will come from Germans who continue to believe in victory. At the best the struggle can only be a draw." Whether this statement had anything to do with the chancellor's retirement is now an open question.

Rather than return to the Government Hospital for the Insane, Mrs. Margaret Baum, 47, wife of Charles S. Baum, a policemen at the White House, yesterday committed suicide by drowning herself in the bathroom of her home.

The House of Representatives on Saturday sent its greetings to glorious France on Bastille Day by passing the enormous $640,000,000 aviation bill without a dissenting vote. The first of the two legislative steps thus was taken to create the gigantic air fleet which will fly against Germany. It is now up to the Senate.

Rear Admiral William Hemsley Emory, U. S. N., retired, died yesterday at Newport, R. I. Rear Admiral Emory was 71 years old. He was graduated at the United States Naval Academy in 1866, and put on the retired list in 1908. Admiral Emory was the head of the well-known family of the Eastern Shore of Maryland which bears his name.

Police of Camden, N. J., are confident that in the arrest of an alleged negro highwayman on Friday that they have found the murderer of Rev. T. M. L. Childrey, a native of Richmond, who was killed five weeks ago. The man under arrest is Henry Thomas, twenty three years old. A woman, Brownie Jones, twenty years old, was also arrested for complicity in numerous crimes around Camden.

Gun Crew on American Vessel Sends Down German Submarine.

At Atlantic Port, July 16.—A submarine was sunk by an American schooner which sailed from this port for a European port, according to advices received here by the owners of the vessel from its captain. The naval gun crew aboard the schooner was composed of six gunners and a petty officer.

It was assumed by the owners of the vessel that the attack was made in the Mediterranean, though no details of the fight were said to have been contained in the meager dispatch from the captain announcing his arrival at a European port. The schooner carried a cargo of 4,000 barrels of resin, with an estimated value of $250,000. Eight men, exclusive of the naval gunners, composed its crew.

The schooner sailed from this port about six weeks ago, according to its owners.

THREE PERSONS SHOT

George Tompkins Held Following Death of Partner and Family.

Carrolltown, Pa., July 16—Edmund Humphries, wealthy coal operator of Carrolltown, his wife and 15-year-old son were killed early yesterday morning in a mysterious attack made on them when the party, en route to Philadelphia by automoible, stopped to fix a punctured tire on the deserted fairgrounds three miles outside of Carrolltown.

George C. Tompkins, Jr., of Philadelphia, former well-known automobile racer but recently a partner of Mr. Humphries in the Newborn Coal Company, who was a member of the party, has been held by the police as a material witness.

After the robbers had killed the Humphries family and disappeared in the woods, according to Tompkins, he placed the body of Mrs. Humphries and that of her son in the automobile and drove to the home of Dr. E. F. Aible, in Carrolltown, where he related his story about the shooting.

John Malin, of Barnsboro, told Coroner Fitzgerald late this evening that he had passed the scene of the shooting shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

"While I was looking at the license plate," Malin stated, " a man leaped from behind some bushes nearby and told me to 'get the hell out of there.' He had a revolver and I left in a hurry."

Malin said that he was so excited at the time he could not identify the man.

Tompkins said he barely escaped after three masked robbers had leaped from the woods and shot down the three members of the Humphries family while they were busy on the damaged automobile. But the coroner ordered his detention after the discovery of powder burns on the clothing of the bodies and in the light of the fact that a large sum of money was found on Humphries' body and valuable jewels on that of his wife.
